

PRESS RELEASE

JAMIE LEE CURTIS AND CHRISTOPHER GUEST JOIN THE CROWDS ON CANNERY ROW

The Couple and Their Children Were Spotted Dining at the Fish Hopper Restaurant

MONTEREY, Calif. – April 17, 2009 – Celebrities Christopher Guest and Jamie Lee Curtis joined the crowds of families on Spring Break for a few breezy days on Cannery Row. The couple and their children were spotted dining at the Fish Hopper Restaurant this past weekend.

Guest is the writer/director of cult favorite mockumentaries, "This is Spinal Tap," "Best in Show," and "Waiting for Guffman". Curtis is the daughter of legendary actors Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, and starred in many hit films, including the "Halloween" horror series, "A Fish Called Wanda," and the recent "Beverly Hills Chihuahua."

It has been a celebrity-filled Spring Break on Cannery Row. In addition to Guest and Curtis, Cher was spotted touring the area, greeted by limo at the InterContinental the Clement Monterey and having a drink with friends at The Fish Hopper Restaurant.

###

Media Contact: Shelley Gesicki at Armanasco Public Relations, Inc., (831)372-2259, sgesicki@armanasco.com.

About Cannery Row

Cannery Row in Monterey, California, was made famous in John Steinbeck's classic novel depicting life in the "the sardine capital of the world." Today, Cannery Row is a beautiful waterfront playground where visitors from all over the world seek a California getaway as authentic as the coast itself. Cannery Row remains a treasure of California's Central Coast, where a discovery awaits every type of visitor. For more information, visit the official Cannery Row website at www.canneryrow.com.